

Design your own book jacket

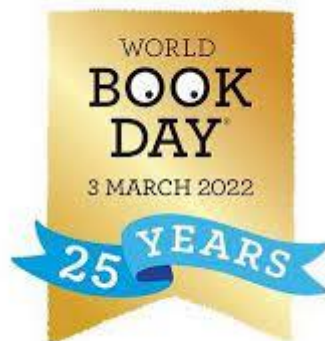

<https://tinyurl.com/yckzhmds>

Create an appealing book cover for a book. You can choose a book that you have read, or one that you would like to read!

Remember to include:

- the title
- the author's name
- (and/or) the illustrator's name

World Book Day Homework

Please select 1 or 2 activities from the grid

Get baking!

Try baking or cooking a literary inspired treat. You could make a Gruffalo crumble, Bruce Bogtrotter's chocolate cake, porridge (from The Magic Porridge Pot), a "Supertato", a real life Gingerbread Man... The possibilities are endless!

Please send a photo of your creation to admin@royalmileprimary.sch.uk

Guess the book emoji quiz

<https://tinyurl.com/443r9982>

Can you identify the famous children's books from the emoji clues?

Change the ending

There are lots of excellent book endings out there to enjoy for World Book Day, but have you ever thought that you could do better?

Choose a book and write an alternative ending.

You could write a few sentences, a paragraph, or even a page or 2.

Create a trailer

Create a book trailer for your favourite book, as though it was a movie. You can use a simple Power Point presentation or even film bits of video on your smartphone.

OR

You could film yourself reviewing a favourite book. Remember to include the title; the author and/or illustrator; a little bit about the book; parts that you liked or disliked; an overall rating
